

SAVING THE WORLD!

This is a story about a girl who saved the world:

Ling- Ling was in the cinema with her boyfriend Yoe. They were watching a film about aliens. It was a strange movie where the aliens ruled the world. The whole Earth was a disaster. That was just a movie, but they didn't know that the same thing was happening right in front of the 50 years old cinema.

Just like in the movie, aliens were everywhere. Everywhere you looked, you could see big, fat, slimy, scary, green aliens. They were destroying everything they saw. Cars, boats, trees, roofs, people and other things were in the air.

When she found out the truth, she wanted to investigate it immediately. But her stepparents didn't let her to do it. They hired two private detectives who would watched her day and night. But that didn't stop her. She went to her laboratory.

She locked the door so detectives couldn't come in. Then she took a sample of alien blood (don't ask where she got it). She began with her experiments. Suddenly she heared a very strange noise. She was aware that someone was broking into the lab. She picked up her things and escaped into the submarine.

Day after day she was skin-diving and searching for new ingredients. She wanted to save people from slavery. But it was too late. Under the water, she saw people who were caught in the cars. They tried to escape, but they couldn't, because aliens were watching them.

In the submarine she built a temporary lab, where she could continue with her investigations. After a long resarch, she realized that the last ingredient that could help her to save the world was a trans-time-porter.

She couldn't get it in the legal way, so she decided to steal it. The porter was in the factory, more specific in the manager's office. Somehow she managed to get in the building unspotted. As soon as she got the transporter, she was back home. Unfortunately the detectives were waiting for her.

They were holding her. She was scared because she thought, that they were aliens. But when she saw their faces she calmed down. They took her into the car and drove her to the White house. Finally she realized that she saved the world.

She had a speech, which was great. She smiled and saw, that people were looking at her with respect in their eyes. She knew that her dreams became true. She was the happiest girl in the world.
